The Forest Stewardship Council® (FSC) is an independent, not for profit, non-government organization established to promote environmentally appropriate, socially beneficial, and economically viable management of the world's forests.

FSC's vision is that the world's forests meet the social, ecological, and economic rights and needs of the present generation without compromising those of future generations.

Part 2 Policy Implementation

Introduction

FSC's mission is to promote the environmentally appropriate, socially beneficial and economically viable management of the world's forests. It is increasingly recognized that association between FSC and organizations that are involved in unacceptable forest-related activities is harmful to FSC's reputation and ultimately to its ability to deliver on its mission. In order to address this concern, in March 2007 the FSC Board of Directors mandated the FSC International Center to develop criteria for the association of third parties with FSC.

Through this policy FSC expects to be able to identify organizations not committed to the basic fundamentals of responsible forest management and prevent them from misusing their association with FSC.

It is especially relevant, but not limited to, the granting and maintenance of FSC trademark licenses and FSC certificates to organizations associated with FSC through forest management, chain of custody and/or controlled wood FSC certification.

D Terms and definitions

For the purposes of this Policy, the terms and definitions given in FSC-STD-01-002 FSC Glossary of Terms and the following apply:

Association

An association with FSC is formally established through any of the following relationships:

- FSC membership
- Contractual relationship through:
 - o FSC accreditation agreement,
 - o FSC license agreement,
 - o FSC cooperation agreement,
 - o FSC partnership agreement.

Destruction of high conservation values

Significant damage of the attributes that constitute high conservation values in a way that they no longer exist or cannot be repaired.

Forest Conversion

Rapid or gradual removal of natural forest, semi-natural forest or other wooded ecosystems such as woodlands and savannahs to meet other land needs, such as plantations (e.g. pulp wood, oil palm or coffee), agriculture, pasture, urban settlements, industry or mining. This process is usually irreversible.

Significant conversion

Conversion is considered significant in any case of:

- o Conversion of High Conservation Value Forests
- o Conversion of more than 10% of the forest areas under the organization's responsibility in the past 5 years

- Conversion of more than 10,000 ha of forests under the organization's responsibility in the past 5 years

NOTE: Failure of the 10,000 ha threshold does not lead to disassociation per se, but will lead to a case by case investigation by an independent Complaints Panel. In judging the case, the Panel will take into account the local circumstances, the scale of the operation and plans for continued conversion.

NOTE: For the purposes of this policy, the establishment of ancillary infrastructure necessary to implement the objectives of responsible forest management (forest roads, skid trails, log landings, etc) is not considered conversion.

Human rights

Rights as established by the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of the United Nations.
<http://www.un.org/en/documents/udhr/>

Illegal Logging

Harvesting of timber in violation of any laws applicable in that location or jurisdiction including, but not limited to, laws related to the acquisition of harvesting rights from the rightful owner, the harvesting methods used and the payment of all relevant fees and royalties.

ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work

Adopted in 1998, the Declaration commits Member States to respect and promote principles and rights in four categories, whether or not they have ratified the relevant Conventions. These categories are: freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining, the elimination of forced or compulsory labor, the abolition of child labour and the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation. For more information, please access: <http://www.ilo.org/declaration>

Involvement

Direct involvement: Situations in which the associated organization or individual is first-hand responsible for the unacceptable activities.

Indirect involvement: Situations in which the associated organization or individual, with a minimum ownership or voting power of 51%, is involved as a parent or sister company, subsidiary, shareholder or Board of Directors to an organization directly involved in unacceptable activities. Indirect involvement also includes activities performed by subcontractors when acting on behalf of the associated organization or individual.

Traditional rights

Rights which result from a long series of habitual or customary actions, constantly repeated, which have, by such repetition and by uninterrupted acquiescence, acquired the force of a law within a geographical or sociological unit. Also known as customary rights (FSC Principles and Criteria). It also encompasses the rights of Indigenous and Tribal Peoples as established by the ILO Convention 169.
